Carlsbad banker Don Kidd and his wife, Sarrah, have given a major gift to New Mexico State University to establish the Don and Sarrah Kidd Endowed Chair in Literacy in the College of Education.

Kidd’s interest in reading came early in life when an elementary school principal chose to have him read in the library during lunch as punishment when he misbehaved. “Since then, reading has been my salvation,” Kidd said. “You will never be lonely if you can read.”

Exploring Empowerment Through Multiple Literacies

The Department of Curriculum and Instruction at New Mexico State University is pleased to sponsor the Don and Sarrah Kidd Literacy Workshop. We invite middle and high school teachers from the communities we serve to attend this one-day workshop that focuses on secondary literacy teaching and learning. The workshop theme, Exploring Empowerment through Multiple Literacies, will be pursued through interactive sessions presented by faculty from across NMSU.

Through the generous support of the Don and Sarrah Kidd Literacy Chair endowment, workshop participants will receive a $75.00 stipend. Enrollment is limited to 60, so register early to reserve your place.
