Carlsbad banker Don Kidd and his wife, Sarrah, have given a major gift to New Mexico State University to establish the Don and Sarrah Kidd Endowed Chair in Literacy in the College of Education.

Kidd's interest in reading came early in life when an elementary school principal chose to have him read in the library during lunch as punishment when he misbehaved. "Since then, reading has been my salvation," Kidd said.

"You will never be lonely if you can read."

Las Cruces, NM 88005
Affirming Multiple Literacies K-12
While Resisting Reading Mandates

The Department of Curriculum and Instruction at New Mexico State University is pleased to sponsor the 2nd Annual Don & Sarrah Kidd Literacy Workshop.

We invite teachers from the communities we serve to attend this one-day workshop that focuses on both elementary and secondary literacy teaching. The workshop theme, “Affirming Multiple Literacies While Resisting Reading Mandates,” will be pursued through interactive sessions presented by faculty members from across NMSU, UNM, and local school districts. Several local exhibitors & literary vendors will also be present.

Through the generous support of the Don and Sarrah Kidd Literacy Endowment, workshop participants, who are currently serving our communities as teachers, will receive a $50 stipend. Stipends are limited to the first 60 teacher participants.

Please register early to reserve your place!
